

BALTIC VALUATION CONFERENCE 2009 Visby, Sweden, 17 – 19 of September 2009

Invitation

Dear friends and colleagues

From January 1st SFF (the valuers association in Sweden), SLF (the surveyors association) and IREP (International Property Professional) have merged to one association under the name of ASPECT.

www.aspect.se, email: info@aspect.se

Swedish colleagues in ASPECT hereby invite you to Sweden and Visby to attend
The Baltic Valuation Conference (BVC) 2009, 17-19 September.

The theme of the conference is twofold;

The Financial Crisis and Environmental Damages – their Impact on the Property Markets.

We have chosen Gotland and Visby as we see its strategic location in the middle of the Baltic Sea. What could be a more inspirational place to hold a congress than Gotland? Gotland has a vibrant culture, tranquil beaches, incredible natural beauty, picturesque alleys and a convention centre that now stands ready to welcome you.

Since 1995, the Hanseatic Town of Visby has been on UNESCO's list of World Heritage Sites, and the glory days of medieval Gotland are still evident on the streets of the town today. Although Visby is a small town, it offers a large selection of shops, restaurants and galleries, and a wide selection of concerts and other entertainment.

Gotland University in Visby is our co-organizer.

We invite you to contribute with papers from the participating countries.

Welcome to join us on September the 17th in the afternoon at the Gotland University, Cramérgatan 3, Visby for registration at 16.00 hrs. After registration the Gotland County Governor, Marianne Samuelsson, invites us all to a reception at 1800 hrs.

We are convinced that the programme will interest you all and we in the organizing committee will do our utmost to make your stay in Gotland memorable.

On behalf of ASPECT, I welcome you all to Sweden, Gotland and Visby.

Åke Ekwall
Chairman of the Organizing committee.

The theme and call for papers

The theme of the BVC 2009 is twofold;

The Financial Crisis and Environmental Damages -their impact on the Property Markets

We invite you to contribute in;

1. The effects of the Financial Crisis on property markets and the role of the valuer in your country.
2. Environmental problems of fundamental importance for the property sector in you country.
3. Environmental issues in practice.

Gotland University will present research and environmental considerations in building construction (“Green” houses)

Abstracts and full papers are to be submitted in English.

The final programme will be distributed to the sister organisations to be forwarded to all members by email and will appear on the website of ASPECT. www.aspect.se
